

FINAL EFFORT TO AVERT RAIL STRIKE IS UNDER WAY

RACIAL PARTNERSHIP, NOT AMALGAMATION, HARDING'S SOLUTION

President Discussed Race Problem in Address
Today.

BULLETIN

By Associated Press Leased Wire Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 26.—President Harding and his party arrived here at 8:45 a. m. today to attend Birmingham's semi-centennial celebration.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 26.—The right of the American negro to broader political, economic and educational advantages, based on a pride of race but never on an aspiration for social equality, was championed by President Harding today in a plainly worded enunciation of his views on the whole American race problem.

These are some of the principles on which the president appealed to the nation to "lay aside old prejudices and old antagonisms," and give support to a constructive policy of racial relationship.

"Politically and economically, there need be no occasion for great and permanent differentiation, provided on both sides there shall be recognition of the absolute divergence in things social and racial."

"I would say let the black man vote when he is fit to vote; prohibit the white man voting when he is unfit to vote."

"I wish that both the tradition of a solidly Democratic South and the tradition of a solidly Republican black race might be broken up."

"I would insist upon equal educational opportunities for both."

No Social Equality.

"Men of both races may well stand uncompromisingly against every suggestion of social equality. This is not a question of social equality, but a question of recognizing fundamental, eternal, inalienable differences."

"Social amalgamation there cannot be. Partnership of the races in developing the highest aims of all humanity there must be, if humanity is to achieve the ends which we have set for it."

"The black man should seek to be,
and he should be encouraged to be, the best possible black man and not the best possible imitation of a white man."

Problem is National.

"The World War brought us to full recognition that the race problem is national rather than merely sectional. There are no authentic statistics, but it is common knowledge that the World War was marked by a great migration of colored people to the north and west. They were attracted by the demand for labor and the higher wages offered. It has brought the question of race closer to north and west, and, I believe, it has served to modify, somewhat, the views of those sections on this question. It has made the south realize its industrial dependence on the labor of the black man and made the north realize the difficulties of the community in which two greatly differing races are brought to live side by side. I should say that it has been responsible for a larger charity on both sides, a beginning of better understanding; and in the light of that better understanding perhaps we shall be able to consider this problem together as a problem of all sections and of both races, in whose solution the best intelligence of both must be enlisted."

"Indeed, we will be wise to recognize it as wider yet. Whoever will take the time to read and ponder Mr.
Lothrop Stoddard's book on 'The Rising Tide of Color,' or, say, the thoughtful review of some recent literature on this question which Mr. F.
D. Lugard presented in a recent Edinburgh review, must realize that our race problem here in the United States is only a phase of a race issue that the whole world confronts. Surely we shall gain nothing by blinking the facts, by refusing to give thought to them. That is not the American way of approaching such issues."

"Mr. Lugard, in his recent essay, after surveying the world's problem of races, concludes thus:

"Here, then, is the true conception of the inter-relation of color—complete uniformity in ideals, absolute equality in the paths of knowledge and culture, equal opportunity for those who strive, equal admiration for those who achieve—in matters social and racial a separate path, each nursing his own inherited traditions, preserving his own race purity, and race pride; equality in things spiritual."

BROTHERHOODS FIGHT FOR EXISTENCE SAYS HEAD OF ENGINEERS

Charges Railroads With Attempt to Overthrow Unions.

Cleveland, Oct. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in a statement made public here today asserts that the brotherhoods are "fighting for their very existence," and warned that if they are destroyed "radical labor organizations are sure to spring up to take their places within a few years or perhaps months."

"Let us assure you, however," Mr.
Stone said, "that this overthrow is a long way from an accomplished fact."

Mr. Stone also asserted that "the most powerful force in deciding this railroad controversy is the force of public opinion and asked if security in travel furnished by experienced employees of the brotherhoods should not be preferred to insecurity that would result if the operation of trains is left to inexperienced men."

Charges Evasions

Mr. Stone said the railroads "with characteristic cunning," have made it "appear that the brotherhoods have precipitated the whole trouble," and then reviews various events leading up to the authorization of the strike. Evasive answers, he said, were made by the railroad executives to all queries by the "Big Five" railroad transportation organization chiefs concerning retention of various rules and working conditions.

"The executives made it plain that they were through with collective bargaining, except so far as the railway wage board might be useful in lending force and sanction to their designs. Informally the air was filled with talk that 'now is the time to smash the unions.'"

The statement continued:
"The working railroad feels that he deserves well from the public. The first principle of his religion is that lives entrusted to his keeping must be safeguarded at every hazard."

"Before the public decides that it wants to see railroad service cheapened and this fine morale wrecked, it should give some consideration to the consequences of such a course."

Police Made Boys Wash Store Windows

The police conducted a window washing bee in Dementtown this morning, three boys from the E. C.
Smith school being excused from their studies long enough to remove soap marks from the windows of business houses on Depot avenue.
Last night the boys made a trip through Dementtown, smearing display windows with soap and writing obscene words on the glass.

They also admitted to making a tour of some of the down town stores which bore evidence of their operations this morning. The boys removed the soap marks from all of the windows in Dementtown under police supervision.

loot in Monday night's daring mail truck holdup would exceed $1,000,000 was indicated by postoffice authorities today following a partial check of the contents of the five stolen pouches, while from other sources it was learned the total might exceed $2,000,000.

Officials of one Wall Street firm not yet listed as among those affected by the robbery, said that firm had sent $1,000,000 in securities by registered mail on Monday night, but that they had been unable to learn yet whether it was in one of the five pouches taken by the three bandits who held up the truck in lower Broad-

BRUNDAGE DECISION TO ENFORCE STATE'S DRY LAW ANNOUNCED

Court Fight Likely to Follow New Federal Ruling.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Chicago, Oct. 25.—A fight in the courts on the order of Secretary Mellon allowing the sale of beer on prescription which would test the Illinois statute prohibiting its sale on prescription was indicated today, following a statement by Attorney General Brundage that he would strictly enforce state law.

F. Scott McBride, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois attacked the order which allows the sale of beer again as an opening made by the wets for the eventual return of liquor to be sold generally.

"This whole question of prescribing beer," he said, "and the agitation in behalf of it by the organized outlaw liquor traffic makes clear that it is not an earnest effort to make beer and wine as medicine but it is an effort to bring back the whole liquor traffic."

"Section 8 of the state law says: 'It shall be unlawful to prescribe wine, beer or any alcoholic malt liquors.'
That makes it clear enough."

Two Main Questions

Levy Mayer, an attorney, issued a statement which voices the general opinion of several other attorneys who gave out statements on the ruling last night and today.

"There is, here, a direct conflict between the federal and the state laws," he said, "ordinarily in case of conflict the federal law prevails. Whether this rule will be applied in this instance must finally be decided by the United States supreme court."

"There is, however, another proposition which is not so easy of solution, and that is whether a legislature has the power to enact a law which prohibits a licensed physician from following immemorial custom and practice in prescribing what has always been considered a proper remedy for certain cases."

Attorney General Brundage yesterday announced that the state statute should rule and that it would be enforced. He held that the state laws of a state are not amenable to an order from the United States government.

Catholic Priest is Lured from Home in Lead, S. D.; Killed

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Lead, S. D., Oct. 25.—Father Arthur B. Belknap, a parish priest at St.
Patrick's church here, was lured from his home early today and shot to death.

The priest was called from his bed by a man who represented that he wanted him to answer a sick call. The priest dressed hurriedly and went on foot in company with the man who called for him.

Later people living in the west part of Lead heard three pistol shots in rapid succession. An investigation made by citizens living nearby led to the finding of Father Belknap dead in the road. He had been shot three times, twice through the body and once in the head. There was no sign of a struggle.

HEARING BEFORE LABOR BOARD IS OPENED IN CITY

President of Trainmen First Chief Called to Stand.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—Ben W. Hooper, member of the United States Railroad Labor Board, conducting the hearing, called by the board to investigate the threatened railroad strike, today called W. G. Lee, president of the train-men, to the stand, and questioned him about the strike order.

Lee told how the strike vote was taken and the walk-out ordered. He told the board he withdrew from the joint meeting of the other unions because their strike resolution covered questions he did not think were involved.

"I took the position," Lee said,
"that for once in my life, at least, I wanted to tell the truth to my men about the facts as I saw them."

Tells of Differences.

Lee read into the record a circular letter sent to his men while they were voting on the strike, in which he pointed out that wages must come down and that 4,000,000 unemployed men were seeking jobs.

He declared the differences between himself and the other unions arose when he insisted on a "clean cut statement" pointed out there was no possibility of re-opening negotiations with the roads, using the strike vote as a club, because the labor board, and not the roads, had ordered the wage cut.

At 12 o'clock the board recessed until 2 o'clock. Lee had not completed his statement.

Continuing his questioning of President Lee, Mr. Hooper asked who had the proper authority to call off the strike. Mr. Lee said only the general committee but that Mr. Lee, as chief executive, could send the word when the committee had reached a "satisfactory settlement."

To Hold Night Session.
Chairman Barton announced a night session would be held from 7 to 9 p. m. tonight just before the resumption of Mr. Lee's testimony.

Mr. Lee said his general chairman now in Chicago could issue the necessary orders for recalling the strike order, but only when the roads made such settlement as the men demand.

Mr. Hooper brought out that Lee had told his general chairman to obey the board's order and appear today.

In response to questions about the meeting with the railroad executives here on Oct. 14, he declared nothing said at that conference had anything to do with the trainmen's decision to strike. The board has claimed jurisdiction over the strike dispute on the ground that the conference ended in a dispute. Mr. Lee declared he had already reached his decision before the Oct. 14 meeting.

"To me there was only one thing left to do," he continued. "That was to go down with my men, if they go down, or resign and I preferred to go with them."

Tells of Union Split.

Mr. Hooper pressed his inquiry of the distinction made between the question of the July wage cut on the balloot proper and reference to the question of time and one-half further pay cuts. Mr. Lee stood on his affirmation that the trainmen's ballots was only on the July wage cut.

"Was not the inclusion of these questions argumentative and persuasive?" Mr. Hooper asked.

"No, I couldn't subscribe to that," Mr. Lee answered.

"When we stood on the pinnacle and saw every other class of labor around as having its wages cut I could not say we will not accept the 12 per cent wage cut," Mr. Lee said, "and so I and the other organizations parted on the preparation of the balloot."

Mr. Hooper brought out that train-men on 14 roads had voted against a strike.

Chairman Barton Predicted the hearing would be completed by Thurs- day noon.

Chairman R. M. Barton said in his opening statement that the board was principally moved by a threatened interruption to commerce. He made it plain that the inquiry was being conducted entirely on the initiative of the board, neither the railroads nor the employees about to strike being concerned in bringing the case before the federal railroad tribunal.

Vice Chairman Ben W. Hooper, as head of the board's judiciary committee, was placed in charge of the inquiry on behalf of the board. The chairman announced, however, that independent cross-examination might be made by any individual member of the board or any representative of either the employees or the railroads directly involved in the proceedings.

The hearing was slow in getting un-

Was Strange Gathering.

It was one of the strangest gatherings ever assembled at a labor conference in Chicago. Numbers of women were scattered through the hall.
Among the early arrivals were fifty girl college students.

Chairman Barton ordered a roll call of the union presidents and the presidents of the 165 railroads and also the unions' general chairmen on each road.

Warren S. Stone, president of the Engineers, protested that the board had called the general chairmen of 147 short lines who are not parties to the dispute.

Mr. Barton explained no one affected by the July 1 wage cut order needed attend.

The roll call came to a halt, when Mr. Stone objected to the activities of several photographers. Chairman Barton explained he had no control over the movie men.

"Well, if you have no control over them, I can put one of my strong arm squads in here and clear them out in two minutes," Stone retorted.

To Settle Rules.

On the eve of the meeting the board announced that the brotherhoods' complaints, largely over rules and working conditions, must be settled before the additional ten per cent wage cut proposed by the roads could be considered. Union leaders have asserted that this further reduction bulked largely in their grievances.

Examination of the labor board's statement apparently forestalling further wage decrease proposals for a time, disclosed today that some of the unions now on the verge of a walkout, would not be affected by this ruling. The conductors, it is said, have no disputes before the board on rules or working conditions, so that wage proposals affecting them would not be delayed by the board's ruling, and petitions for wage reductions in their case would be taken up at once.

Others of the sixteen "standard" railroad unions are in the same position, it was understood. The shopmen, it is said, have the greatest number of rules disputes on file. In their case, and with some of the other unions the board's decision indicated, wage reduction petitions could not be considered before next March at the earliest.

STARKS' PLEA OF GUILTY IS NOT ACCEPTED

State Says More Than One Charge Is Involved.

Sam Starks, notorious resort keeper, went into the circuit court shortly before noon today with his attorney H. A. Brooks to plead guilty to a charge of gambling. His attorney stated that his client was ready and willing to plead guilty to this charge and State's Attorney Keller objected to a plea of guilty on the single charge of gambling.

Judge Harry Edwards notified the attorneys that the case would be set for trial and Tuesday morning at 9:30 was decided upon. At that time Starks will again be taken into court to be tried.

At a late hour the girls departed for their homes, voting the evening a very pleasant one.

The following were elected officers of the club:

CHAPTER A. C. ILLINOIS P. E. O. HAD MEETING

On Monday afternoon Mrs. F. X. Newcomer was hostess to Chapter A. C. Illinois P. E. O., a large attendance being present, with Mrs. John Char- ters of Ashton as a guest. Mrs. Char- ters is a member of a Missouri chapter.

The work of initiation was one of the features of the business hour and another of the many charming daughters of the P. E. O. chapter was taken into the sisterhood.

The chairman of the finance committee reported the proceeds of rummage sale to be approximately seventy-five dollars.

After the business session a report of the Supreme convention which was held in Kansas City, Oct. 4, 5, 6 and 7, was given by the delegate, Mrs. A. F. Moore, in a very interesting manner.

This convention was held at the hotel Muehleback with 353 delegates in attendance, beside the officers and visitors bringing the total to more than 600. This convention is held every two years and delegates are sent, one from every third local chapter from 33 states and one from British Columbia. The convention for 1923 will be held in Seattle, Wash.

The next feature of the program was a paper prepared and given by Mrs. S. W. Lehman on the social and moral conditions in Japan. This paper received the closest attention of the hearers, as it was presented in a clear and logical manner.

The program was concluded by a selection from Madam Butterfly on the Victrola.

Delicious refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. W. W. Trautman and daughter Lucile, visited relatives in Rochelle Tuesday.

ual; agreed divergence in the physical and material.

"Here, it has seemed to me, is suggestion of the true way out. Politically and economically there need be no occasion for great and permanent differentiation, for limitations of the individual's opportunity, provided that on both sides there shall be recognition of the absolute divergence of these social and racial, when I suggest the possibility of economic equality between the races, I mean it in precisely the same way and to the same extent that I would mean it if I spoke of equality of economic opportunities as between members of the same race. In each case, I would mean equality proportioned to the honest purpose and efforts of the individual.

Would Eliminate Word

"Men of both races may well stand uncomprehendingly against every suggestion of social equality. Indeed, it would be helpful to have that word 'equality' eliminated from this consideration; to have it accepted on both sides that this is not a question of recognizing a fundamental, eternal, and racial equality, but a question of recognizing this difference.

"Take the political aspect. I would say let the black man vote when he is fit to vote; prohibit the white man voting when he is unfit to vote. Especially would I appeal to the self-respect of the colored race. I would inculcate in it the wish to improve itself as a distinct race, with a heredity, a set of traditions, an array of aspirations all its own. Out of such a racial ambition and pride will come racial segregation, without narrowing any rights, such as are proceeding in both rural and urban communities now in southern states, not denying natural inclinations and adding nothing to happiness and contentment.

Educational Opportunities

"On the other hand, I would insist upon equal educational opportunity for both. This does not mean that both would become equally educated within a generation or two generations or ten generations. Even men of the same race do not accomplish such an equality as that. But there must be such education among the colored people as will enable them to develop their own leaders, capable of understanding and sympathizing with such a differentiation between the races as I have suggested—leaders who will inspire the race with proper ideals of race pride, of national pride, of an honorable destiny, and of important participation in the universal effort for advancement of humanity, as a whole. Racial amalgamation there cannot be. Partnership of the races in developing the highest aims of all humanity there must be if humanity, not only here, but everywhere, is to achieve the ends which we have set for it.

"I can say to you people of the south, both white and black, that the time has passed when you are entitled to pass this problem of race is peculiarly and particularly your problem. More and more it is becoming a problem of the north; more and more it is the problem of Africa, of South America, of the Pacific, of the South Seas, of the world. It is the problem of Democracy everywhere, if we mean the things we say about Democracy, as the ideal political state.

"The one thing we must adamantly avoid is development of group and class organizations in this country. There have been times when we heard too much about the labor vote, the business vote, the Irish vote, the Scandinavian vote, the Italian vote and so on. But the demagogues who would array class against class and group against group have fortunately found little to reward their efforts. That is because, despite the demagogues, the idea of our oneness as Americans has risen superior to every appeal to mere class and group. And so I would wish it might be in the matter of our national problem of races. I could accept that a black man cannot be a white man and that he does not need and should not aspire to be as much like a white man as possible in order to accomplish the best that is possible for him. He should seek to be, and he should be encouraged to be, the best possible black man and not the best possible imitation of a white man.

Wants No Sectionalism

"It is a matter of the keenest national concern that the south shall not be encouraged to make its colored population a vast reservoir of ignorance, to be drained away by the processes of migration into all other sections. That is what has been going on in recent years, at a rate so accentuated that it has caused this question of races to be, as I have already said, no longer one of a particular section. Just as I do not wish the south to be politically entirely one party; just as I believe that is bad for the south, and for the rest of the country as well, so I do not want the colored people to be entirely of one party. I wish that both the tradition of a solidly Democratic south and the tradition of a solidly Republican black race might be broken up. Neither political sectionalism nor any system of rigid groupings of the people will in the long run, prosper our country.

"With such convictions, one must urge the people of the south to take advantage of their superior understanding of this problem and to assure an attitude toward it that will deserve the confidence of the colored people. Likewise I plead with my own political party to lay aside every program that looks to lining up the black man as an end of pre-judice and of democracy in this line. Let the south understand the menace which lies in forcing upon the black man an attitude of political solidarity.

"Every consideration, it seems to me, brings us back at last to the question of education. When I speak of education as a part of this race question I do not want the states or the nation to attempt to educate people whether white or black into something they are not fitted to be. I have no sympathy with the half-baked altruism that would overstock us with doctors and lawyers of whatever color, and leave us in need of people fit and willing to do the manual work of the work-a-day world. But I would like to see an education that would serve it. For that sort of education I have no fears, whether it be given to a black man or a white man. From that sort of education, I believe, black men, white men, the whole nation, would draw immeasurable benefit.

"It is probable that as a nation we have come to the end of the period of very rapid increase in our population. Restricted immigration will reduce the rate of increase and force us back upon our older population to find people to do the simpler, physically harder, manual tasks. This will require some difficult readjustments.

Lay Aside Prejudices

"In anticipation of such a condition the south may well recognize that north and west are likely to continue their drafts upon its colored population and that if the south wishes to keep its fields producing and its industry still expanding it will have to compete for the services of the colored man. If it will realize the need for him and deal quite fairly with him, the south will be able to keep him in such numbers as your activities make desirable.

"Is it not possible then, that in the long era of readjustment upon which we are entering for the nation to lay aside old prejudices and old antagonisms and in the broad, clear light of nationalism, enter upon a constructive policy in dealing with these intricate issues? Just as we shall prove ourselves capable of doing this we shall insure the industrial progress, the agricultural security, the social and political safety of our whole country, regardless of race or section, and along the line of ideals superior to every consideration of groups or class, of race or color or section or prejudice."

EAGLES CLAIM VICTORY OVER ST. MARY'S 11

Game Called in Last Quarter Because of Darkness.

(By Forrest & Weinmann)

The Eagles won their first football victory of the season Tuesday afternoon at Brown Park when they defeated the fast St. Mary's team 11-0. The game was called on account of darkness by Referee Ecker in the fourth quarter but the Eagles claim the game as there was but a few minutes to play when the game was called. Edwards, the Eagles' fast half, scored both touchdowns, but Weinmann failed to kick goal both times. The first touchdown was made after a 29 yard run and the second soon after Bill Miller recovered a fumble.

FACTS ABOUT FEET

Mr. Reagan who has charge of the Foot Comfort Department at the Fashion Boot Shop made the remark the other day that nine out of every ten people have some sort of foot trouble.

He stated that it was unnecessary to wear extra size or oddly shaped shoes in order to obtain foot comfort.

During the week of Oct. 22 to 29 Mr. Reagan is making a special effort for better "Foot Hygiene" in this community.

This week is a nation-wide movement among shoe dealers from coast to coast and is known as Dr. Scholl's National Demonstration Week.

Mr. Reagan is very enthusiastic over this work and states that he has had special training in the Dr. Scholl Method and says it is his ambition to send every person out of his store with comfortable feet in neat, stylish shoes and the only way it can be done is through correct shoe fitting and the aid of Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Appliances.

As a result of this special effort you will likely hear of a great many people who have taken advantage of this special Demonstration Week and benefited by it immensely.

PROMINENT DANCER ON FASHION POSSIBILITIES—
Long skirts reaching to the ankle, full length tight-fitting sleeves and high-neck gowns are among the possibilities in new styles for women, according to Miss Leonora Hughes, the dancer, who has just returned from Paris, bringing with her sixty gowns, the creations of some of the best known modistes of the French capital. And not only has Paris decreed these radical changes in dress, but it has also revolutionized the mode of dressing the hair.

Miss Hughes, who is an American girl, created a furore in the famous French salon of the new Ambassador hotel, New York, the other day when she appeared with her hair combed straight back from the forehead and also back from the ears, thus exposing the ears, and tied in a psychic knot. The dancer explained that most American women have "attractive artistic ears which should not be hidden."

Ask the man who owns one

Do you care as much for your babies as a florist cares for his flowers?

EVERY florist knows this:
Flowers which will thrive in air warmed by hot-water radiators will wilt in the heat from a hot-air furnace or stove.

Warm, moist air builds health; hot, dry air undermines it.

Have you ever considered these facts in their relation to the winter health of your babies?

The American Radiator Company considered them when conducting the scientific experiments that produced ARCOLA.

You simply must see ARCOLA. It is new and different. Built by the Company whose larger heating plants warm mansions, cathedrals and even the White House itself, it is guaranteed to be the most perfect hot-water heating outfit for small homes and stores which science has produced.

The red and yellow card at the right is the sign of a Heating or Sanitary Engineer (you used to call him Steamfitter or Plumber) who can show you ARCOLA. Look for it in his window.

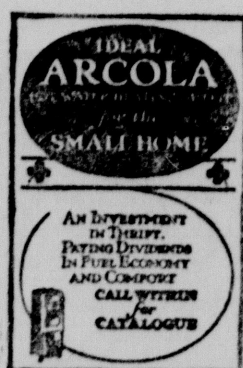

It will pay you to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or Dentist. To have him examine and report on your heating and plumbing costs little. It may save you a very great deal.

IN MEMORY OF HEROES

Seventeen states have about matured their plans for memorial buildings to perpetuate the memory of the American soldiers who died in the World War.

Unlike memorials erected after previous wars, these now contemplated will serve some useful purpose. They will combine beauty and revelance with usefulness.

The strictly monument type of memorial appears to have nearly run its course. Its place is taken by memorial libraries, hospitals, auditoriums, stadiums and amphitheatres.

Two years from now, the University of Illinois expects to open a $2-600,000 athletic stadium and recreation field. It will seat 75,000—the largest athletic plant of its kind in the country.

While this stadium is being financed by the university's students and alumni, without state aid, it will be a memorial to every Illinois soldier who died in the war.

The University of Kansas is erecting a similar memorial stadium. Its first section is expected to be completed in time for the Kansas-Missouri football game in November.

Indianapolis, which already has one of the world's five greatest war monuments, will be the site of a $2-300,000 state memorial, probably a Coliseum, with memorial halls, auditoriums, trophy rooms and American Legion headquarters.

Massachusetts will build a similar structure in Boston, in addition to monuments on the battlefields of France and arrangements for permanently taking care of graves there.

Some cities have planted a shade tree for each of their soldier dead.
This idea is spreading. One plan, now gathering much support, proposes lining the Lincoln Highway from New York Harbor to the Golden Gate and the Dixie Highway from Chicago to Florida, with memorial trees.

FROM POOR PARENTS

Italians all over the world celebrated the 600th anniversary of the death of their countryman, Dante Alighieri, one of the greatest writers of all time.

Have you read Dante's "Inferno"?
Maybe not. But years ago, when you were a boy a book agent with a ball-bearing tongue probably sold a copy to your mother, and you may recall looking at the terrible pictures of sinners writhing in hell.

Dante, born of a poor family, put in a long time rolling pills in a small Italian drug store. His parents, without wealth, gave the world a treasure.

That should inspire poor people who wonder what the future will bring to their boy, just starting to school.

Wealth and a home of luxury are not necessary for success of children.
It's what's born in them, plus what their mothers teach them, that counts.

Aesop, greatest writer of fables, was a slave. Charles Dickens once told in a shoe factory. Shakespepeare's father was a glove maker.
The poet Keats was the son of a hostler.

James Watt, inventor of the steam engine, was the son of a small storekeeper who ended in bankruptcy.

Christopher Columbus, discoverer of America, was the son of a wool comber.

Benjamin Franklin's father was a candle maker.
The locomotive was invented by George Stephenson, son of a coalmine stoker.

So it goes in all countries Open an encyclopedia. For every person born to wealth, you'll find 100 born and raised in poverty.
Lincoln, born in a log cabin, fro-rail-splitter to president. Edison, a train boy. Rockefeller, a bookkeeper.

Irving Berlin, millionaire, who invented ragtime, remembers when he sang for nickels in New York's Chinatown.

It is the plain people that give the nation its great men of power and genius. The snobs may look down on them, but they are the real quality-people, the parents of the mighty and superior.

When a family gets rich, it usually runs to seed.

The future of your children does not depend on how much money the old man packs in his wallet.

TRANSPORTATION

Borneo builds a telegraph line with mahogany and ebony poles—cheap lumber there! Go price a solid mahogany or ebony table in a Dixon store. You'll wish you were in Borneo.

Where things are plentiful, they are cheap.

Labor is not the greatest element of cost. Neither is capital. What counts most is distance—from where things are plentiful to where they're scarce.
And railroads don't get all of the distance-toll. Middlemen see to that.

Only real and lasting solution of the cost of living is efficient transportation at just rates.

INDIA

Afghanistan, the gate to India, signs a treaty giving Russian bolsheviks special privileges. England sought a similar treaty, but the Afghans refused.

Before the German menace, England's greatest fear was that Russia would march down and seize rich India.

India is the Achilles' heel of the British Empire. In 18 months, Lenine has wormed Russia closer to the Indian goal than the czars did in a century. Keep an eye on this. It'll be big front page news one of these days.

WIVES

Natives in British East Africa protest wage cuts because the price of wives still is 50 per cent above pre-war.

This cost of living problem is going to be a humdinger to solve. It boils up, no matter how far away you go, even in the heart of the jungle.

An Irishman's explanation of why the waves are wild is "Britannia rules the waves."

cept when buying hats.

The Chicago policeman caught at his

As a general rule, nations are tired of General rule.

There's a tramp just in
With a battered stack,
With her palpit all dinky
And her stays all slack, Like a tough old harpy
That is drunk on gin
She has wallowed homeward—There's a tramp just in!

She is filled with guano
And some wet raw hides,
And the seaweed's growin' Halfway up her sides,
And she smells to heaven
And she looks like sin, She's a hard old hooker—There's a tramp just in!

She doesn't look romantic But she is—to me,
For she's been a plodder
Up and down the sea;
When I sorta figure
What she's done and Bin, Well, it kinda thrills me—There's a tramp just in!

There's a tramp just in
And I saw her come
As she hogged and wallowed Like a poor old bum,
But she brings in visions That I dream about,
And—I may be on her
When that tramp goes out!

BRINGING UP FATHER

ABOUT MR. WHALE

"Will you please tell us what to do with this?"

The cuttlefish did as he was told and squirted a lot of black ink into the bottle that Nick was holding.

"There, now!" said Cap'n Pennywinkle when it was full. "That ought to be enough to save three or four whales, although we are only going to save one."

"Whales!" cried Mr. Cuttlefish in alarm. "Did you say whales, Cap'n Pennywinkle?"

"Yes," answered the fairman.
"The sharks are planning to attack a nice big fellow and I want the Twins to have him. Have you any objection?"

"I don't know whether I have or not," replied the cuttlefish. "It depends upon the whale."

"How so?"

Cuttie Cuttlefish shivered. "Why, if it's the sperm whale, the big one with sharp teeth, he's just waiting for a chance to make a dinner off me.
Of course, if it's Mr. Whalebone—any teeth and his throat is too small to swallow so much as a herring, living on the tiniest sorts of things. But those others! Ugh! They could swallow a church, although they never do, preferring cuttlefish."

Before the Cap'n could answer, Mr.
Cuttlefish swam disgustedly away.
As the fairman said, the Wiggles people were a queer lot anyway. It was always a case of dog eat dog, or fish eat fish (which was the same thing) and he was going to save Mr.
Whale if he could.

Nick held up his bottle of ink curiously. "Will you please tell us what to do with this?" he asked.

"It's very simple," answered the fairman. "Cuttlefish ink is the blackest in the world. When the sharks come too near to Mr. Whale take the cork out of your bottle and pour the ink into the sea."

To be continued.

A NATION OF NOMADS

BY DR. WM. E. BARTON.

The main thing I noticed as I drove about Seattle, Spokane and other cities of the great northwest was large tracts and subdivisions wholly built up of modest, neat and inexpensive homes. I saw women working among their own flowers, and men returning from the office and moving their own lawns. It did my heart good.

What does it mean when a man and his wife invest in a modest home of this character, instead of living in a flat? It means healthful exercise.

It means economy. It means pride and a sense of ownership. It means acquaintance with the families on both sides and across the street. It means neighbors. It means homes. It means permanence of planning. It means a sense of responsibility. It means a better type of citizenship.

One of the greatest perils of America today is her flats.

They are necessary. But they are destructive of home life and of true neighborliness.

Many thousands of good people live in flats. But no reform that touched the heart of any great problem ever has been wrought mainly by flat-dwellers. The flat dweller never reforms anything. He moves. The man who seriously sets out to make the neighborhood better is the man who has some plan to stay there.

The ancient religions were territial. Even the Old Testament prophets supposed that they fled from the presence of Jehovah when they sailed as far as Tarshish. Their singers could not sing Jehovah's song in a strange land.

We know better than that. Nevertheless, we shall not eliminate wholly from our very religion a sense of its relation to permanence of residence.

We are in danger of becoming a nation of nomads. If we do become such a nation, religion and good citizenship will both decline.

The man who is paying for a home instead of paying rent to a landlord is under bonds to keep the peace.

WILLIAM E. BARTON.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER IX.
THE VANISHING OF JIMMY ALCOTT.

Jimmy Alcott was not a principal in the scandal. He was a victim. It came out gradually. Each day there were new details for the gossips.

A teller in his father's bank had absconded with thousands. Also with Helen, Jimmy's sister. And the worst of it was that Helen was a bride of a year.

Her husband had managed the Alcott quarries, shut down months since. And Alcott senior was a ruined man.

Somehow I had a feeling that Jimmy ought to come to see Motherdear and me just because he needed sympathy. Every evening I put on a certain blue lawn which he admired.

Then came news of the accident: James S. Alcott, senior, had gone over the edge of his biggest quarry in his automobile! And Jimmy Alcott was no where to be found. Jimmy often drove the big car because his father disliked driving!

Was it an accident?
The pond in the quarries was dragged for Jimmy's body. Nobody had seen the young man at the railroad station. Some said he had run away from disgrace.

Others said he hadn't run away; wasn't anything for him to run away from!

Motherdear and I couldn't think of Jimmy as a coward.

His own mother was dead, his sister gone, his father a suicide; eventually, what remained of the Alcott property would be sold for the benefit of the bank's creditors.

Plainly, there was nothing for Jimmy to run away from. But wasn't there something for him to come back to?

Well, there was I! Very much horrified and hurt!

Such were the visions which dissolved and redisolved under the tepid compresses on my eyelids after I had heard Dick Barnes' voice over the phone.

I did not tell Motherdear of what I was thinking. It was too silly! And of course, if Jimmy Alcott had come back, we would hear from him soon.
He did not know that I was a movie actress, but he certainly would find us by mail.

And if Jimmy ever came back, he would recognize my voice instantly over a phone, just as I would recognize his. And he would tell me so.
The man who had been my good friend was the soul of honesty, of frankness.

Was Dick Barnes, the company's new bad-man, as honest as his fine voice led me to hope? Curiosity added interest to the approaching rehearsal.

On the appointed day, my eyes being cured I started for the studios.

I was anxious to be even earlier than usual in order to meet D. Barnes before our work began, but my new chauffeur made some unnecessary detours and I arrived late at the studios.

I sent up word to my director, Demaison, to go ahead and get ready to shoot. I would be on the set promptly—at 9. There were extras on the set.

Extras are expensive. Time was valuable.

I had to hurry so that I actually forgot that I was going to play opposite Dick Barnes.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well TYPHOID FEVER
BY R. H

RETIRED ENGINEER OF NORTHWESTERN IS THEME OF EDITORIAL

Record of Former Nachusa Man Inspired Its Composition.

The current issue of The Northwestern, a monthly magazine, issued in the interests of the employees of the Chicago & North-Western railroad contains an editorial which was written by Isiah Hale, safety superintendent of the Santa Fe railway and which appeared in the September issue of the Santa Fe magazine, concerning James H. Dysart, engineer, who is well known in Dixon and better known in Nachusa, where he was born and raised.

"Jim," as he was more familiarly known, was the son of Col. Dysart and was born just north of the village of Nachusa on the site where the Lutheran orphanage now stands. When a very young man he entered the employ of the North-Western as fireman and continued in the service until recently when he was retired on pension after 50 years of service as an engineer, and is now residing in Chicago.

Under the heading, "Wreckless but not Reckless," the editorial copied from the Santa Fe magazine is as follows:

"James H. Dysart has been retired by the North-Western railway after serving 55 years as engineer. He has pulled some of the North-Western's fastest trains without an accident, in this period of service.

"There are some men who say that, as long as there are railroads there will be accidents." As long as you have men like James Dysart to prove such theory, we can establish the truth.

TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Dixon evidence—doubly proven.

John Edons, retired farmer, 812 W. Fifth St., says: "I can endorse Doan's Kidney Pills for I know from my personal experience they are just as represented. I have used Doan's for a lame back and kidney trouble and they have done me a great deal of good. I suffered with a lame back and my kidneys were out of order. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the lameness and regulated the action of my kidneys."

(Statement given Jan. 5, 1910.) On April 6, 1921, Mr. Edons said: "I am always praising Doan's Kidney Pills on account of a cure they preformed for me several years ago. I am satisfied Doan's are reliable and dependable as a remedy for kidney trouble."

ter uselessness of carelessness and accidents.

"To be able to look back on 55 years of service of a man's work performed in a real man's way, is an accomplishment worth striving for. If every man in railroad service would follow this splendid example, there would be fewer accidents and better railroads. Each employee is a link of a railroad chain. A chain is as strong as its weakest link. We must strengthen each link on the anvil of safety, tempering it with experience. We can prove to the world with men like James Dysart, that railroading without accidents is possible."

AT A MOTHER'S MEETING

The wife of a noted New York divine said to her listeners, "Watch carefully your daughter's physical development. Mothers should keep their daughters well informed as to matters pertaining to health, and should see that nature is assisted, if necessary, to perform its offices."

DIXON MUSICIANS IN FINE CONCERT MON. EVENING AT STERLING

Martin Club's Program Pleased Large Audience There.

The Sterling Gazette reports, as follows, the concert given in that city Monday evening by the Dixon pupils of the late Mrs. Herbert Martin of this city:

The Sterling Woman's club has ever endeavored to bring before its members the best talent of exceptional and whenever anything of exceptional merit has been secured, to give the public a chance to share in the enjoyment. In presenting the Martin club of Dixon, at the Congregational church last evening, it not only set for itself a new criterion, but also offered such a high-class and yet so enjoyable a musical treat as is rarely heard in a town of this size. That Sterling appreciated this unusual opportunity was evidenced by the large and sympathetic audience which greeted these sweet songsters from our neighboring city.

The church was beautifully staged for the occasion. A row of stately palms surrounded the rostrum, masses of autumn leaves formed an attractive background, while baskets of brilliant flowers added to the color harmony.

The program opened with Schubert's "Hunting Song" by the Martin club. The charming rendition of this difficult number and the pleasing personnel of the club gave the audience some hint of the good things to follow. Each young lady is the possessor of remarkable talent and shows the result of expert instruction under the tutelage of the late Mrs. Herbert Martin, a former Grand Opera Star. (Pauline Lyon.)

Mrs. Martin's untimely death occurred only a few weeks ago. During the summer, the program committee of the Sterling Woman's club had arranged with her to put on this concert. Her plans, with few changes, were carried out last evening, by her advanced pupils as a memorial to their beloved teacher.

In regard to the individual numbers each one was executed with so much poise and understanding that it would be difficult indeed to accredit more merit to one than another. Perhaps we could do no better than quote from the Dixon Telegraph.

(The Gazette then reprinted the Telegraph's account of the concert given by the club in this city a few months ago.)

WIFE OF FARMER ALMOST STARVED

Mrs. Peterson Suffered Awful Pains After Every Meal—Is Now Well as Ever.

Declaring she has actually starved to keep from suffering awful misery Mrs. Amy Peterson, wife of a prosperous farmer of Lakeville, Mass., gave out a remarkable statement, recently, in connection with her relief through the use of Tanlac.

"Sometimes I wonder how I lived through it all," she said. "I would have attacks of acute indigestion nearly every time I ate anything. Those terrible cramping pains and the distress from gas and bloating were almost unbearable and I just thought there was no hope for me."

"But now I'm eating anything and I feel as strong and well as I ever felt in my life. I've gained back all the weight I lost and six pounds besides and I know from my experience what Tanlac will do. It's the best medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold in Dixon by Thomas Sullivan and by the leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

EASIER BATTLES ON BIG TEN SCHEDULES FOR THE WEEK END

Ohio, Chicago, Wisconsin Preparing for Title Contests.

Chicago—Easier contests are on this week's big ten football program for the leading undefeated eleven, following the major contests of last Saturday from which Ohio State, Wisconsin and Chicago emerged victorious, but with the customary hospital list in the first string squad.

Coach Stagg is letting his Maroon warriors take things easy after the struggle against Princeton and is developing his open play which was little used in the victory over the Tigers. The Maroons expect next Saturday's game with the University of Colorado to put them in shape for the November 5 meeting with Ohio State.

The Buckeyes, who sprung a surprise on Michigan last Saturday are idle this week. Wisconsin, after defeat of Illinois, is taking no chances in preparing for the homecoming game at Madison Saturday with Minnesota, but looking forward to their contest with Chicago November 19. Greater stress is placed on the games between these leaders since Iowa with two conference victories and no defeats, has easy games ahead for the rest of the season. The Hawkeyes, one of the newest members of the conference and heretofore not regarded as a championship contender, meets Purdue Saturday.

Michigan vs. Illinois.
Michigan and Illinois, each with a defeat, will play at Urbana this week end. The Wolverines were beaten by Ohio State last Saturday and Illinois has gone down before both Iowa and Wisconsin.

After a two weeks' rest, Northwestern Saturday meets DePaul in a non-conference game.

Notre Dame and Indiana meet at Indianapolis in the biggest game of the season for the Hoosiers. It will decide the state championship and the conference schedule paces before it. Indiana has been beaten by Harvard and Minnesota and Notre Dame by Iowa.

Mrs. Eugene Biedert is very ill at the Amboy hospital suffering from blood poisoning.

The ball game last Sunday between Paw Paw and Lee Center resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 13 to 6.

Vernon Pomroy and Louis Eisenberg and three young ladies from Lee Center had an auto mishap on the road last Saturday night when they collided with another machine. A wheel was broken off the Pomroy car but none of the occupants were injured.

Mrs. Charles Frost was a Dixon shopper last Thursday.

Predicts Passing of H. S. Diplomas for College Entry

Chicago.—A high school diploma, a "passing" grade, or the other usual formula for listing college students, may soon be obsolete in Northwestern University, President Walter Dill Scott announced.

President Scott predicted a time when students would be classed according to their mental alertness and said that at the present time students in Northwestern University are graded, some being given special work above the average when extra proficiency is shown.

He said that in the medical school applicants for the course are now sifted so that only the brightest may take the work as there are many more applicants than can be accommodated. The system of mental tests may also be used to check on the instructors, he said, so that the teaching may be kept at the highest point.

Mental tests were first introduced extensively when the government used them in wartime to find good raw material for officers and men for responsible positions.

Illini Not One Bit Dismayed By Defeat at Wisconsin Hands

Urbana, Ill.—Zupke's football team—although defeated by Wisconsin last Saturday—is far from dismayed by the coming Michigan game. The Illini made more first downs than Wisconsin, but lost the game on mechanical errors rather than errors in strategy. On the whole, the team showed considerable improvement over the Iowa game and should be much better against Michigan.

The weakness in passing from center has been apparent all year and Zupke has tried nearly every man on the squad at this position. The last man to be tried was Vogel, but he was unable to work at center Saturday because of an injured arm and so played guard. Al Mohr passed except when he was called back to punt and then his position at center was taken by Anderson.

Vogel should be able to pass the ball this week and Peden, who was kept out of the Wisconsin game, should be back again at half. With another week's drill the Illini team should present a far better front than it has been able to heretofore this season.

"Boy Philosopher" of Chicago Buried

Chicago, Oct. 25.—James P. Lynch, bedridden for 13 years of his 25 years of life, but known among his friends as the boy philosopher, was buried yesterday.

When but twelve years of age, he returned from play one day and complained to his mother of a pain. Shortly afterwards he had a stroke of paralysis which left him permanently bedridden.

But Lynch quickly set about to improve his mind. His sister, Mrs. Wm. Gray, said that he learned Latin, French and German, aided the neighborhood children with their school lessons and worked out a philosophy of his own. Following is an excerpt from his writings:

"The mind is capable of accomplishing anything. The only cripples

Alleged Leader of Black Hand Crowd Taken in Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Anthony Seno, 26 years of age, believed to be a member of a band of "Black Hand" plotters, is in a hospital seriously wounded today after being caught in a trap last night laid for extortioners who had attempted to intimidate Nicol De Genarro into paying them $2,000.

Contrary to the usual custom in Italian Black Hand mysteries, De Genarro enlisted the aid of four detectives. Seno went to De Genarro's house in response to a summons.

"The Black Hand say they will not take a cent less than $500," he said. De Genarro threw a roll of bills on the floor, stating that was all he had and then the detectives appeared. A dozen shots were exchanged and Seno fell seriously wounded.

BY STANLEY IDENTIFICATION OF SUICIDE AS SPURGIN WRONG

Man Who Killed Self in South Probably Not Banker.

Miami, Fla.—Definite identification of the body of a man who committed suicide in a Miami hotel last Friday and who is believed by some to be Warren C. Spurgin, missing Chicago bank president, still was unobtainable today.

W. J. Bennett, Miami business man and former Chicago broker and friend of Spurgin, declared last night he was sure that the man, previously identified as "C. Hayden of New York," was the missing president of the Michigan Avenue Trust Company. He said, however, that he had not seen Spurgin for more than five years.

J. H. Haffen of Carbondale, Ill., who said he often had transacted business in Spurgin's bank, declared today, however, that the dead man in no way resembled Spurgin.

Further strength to the belief that the man is not Spurgin was added through receipt today of a telegram from the Chicago authorities describing the missing bank president as a man weighing 260 pounds, six feet three inches in height and having black hair streaked with gray. The body here is that of a man five feet ten inches in height, weighing 160 pounds and having red hair streaked with gray.

Spurgin, who disappeared from Chicago last July 20, a day before his bank was closed by state examiners, has been the subject of search

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

PRODUCTIVE ADVERTISING

There are three "Bewares" in the primer of every editor, reporter and aspiring newspaper worker. Where they came from we don't know and we know less of what they mean to convey. They are, "Beware of religion; beware of saying anything good about big corporations; beware of mentioning advertisers, except when they pay for it." Readers of this newspaper know where it stands on religion and corporations. We care for them when they do more good than harm. We oppose them when they oppose human progress and retard human happiness.

This is about both a corporation and an advertiser—a big advertiser, the Standard Oil Company. A great change has come over the Standard Oil Company in recent years. It is no longer afraid of its own shadow. It is no longer afraid to tell the world what its business methods are, what its products are and what it hopes to do. The story is being told in friendly and unfriendly papers without fear or favor, embarrasment or compunction in paid advertising matter. Of course a newspaper would naturally agree to this method of publicity.

The above editorial is refreshing to those who are responsible for the policies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

When in October, 1918, the present management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) took charge of the business, one of the first things it decided was that the public should be given intimate information regarding the Company and its affairs. Those responsible for the management knew that the policies that had animated this organization for many years were policies which benefited stockholders, employees, and the public, and that these policies could not but meet the approval of the people generally, for they were based on fair dealing, justice and equity.

The result of this decision was the authorization of a widespread publicity campaign, which has been carried on for about three years, and the proof of its effectiveness is to be seen not only in the not infrequent mention being made by the newspapers of the country in editorials such as the one written by Mr. Johnson, quoted above, but in the better understanding on the part of the public of what the Company is trying to do.

The basic principle upon which the business of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is built is to provide the individual, wherever he may live in the 11 states served by this Company, with such products of petroleum as he may need, and to get them to him when he wants them and at a price which is fair alike to the stockholders, the public, and the competitor.

Notorious Eagle is Finally Executed

Dubuque, Ia.—"Baldy," notorious bald eagle, familiar more or less to the farmers and others with hen and fowl coops in this territory, is dead, having been bagged near here by Ralph Trumbull, while hunting. With a wing spread of six feet, six inches, the eagle weighing 8 1/2 pounds has been the goal of every hunter in this territory for years. His body is being stuffed for presentation to a scientific institution. "Baldy" was the first eagle killed in this county in ten years.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that No-body can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our granmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture, improved by the addition of other ingredients, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

COAL COAL COAL

The Coal situation is becoming serious. Thirty days ago we anticipated the railroad strike that is now on and predicted higher prices for Coal. Last week the mines raised the price to the dealer which necessarily must be passed on to the consumer. The indications are now that not only is there going to be a scarcity of Coal, but that prices will go still higher as the railroad strike progresses. We purchased a large quantity of coal at the advanced price to take care of our requirements. Seven car loads arrived yesterday and we are prepared to make immediate deliveries of all sizes.

Our prices on new business until further notice will be as follows:

Brewers Don't Look for Big Business in Beer Despite Ruling

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 25.—The new regulations which place no limit on the number of prescriptions for beer a doctor may issue will not cause a large demand in the opinion of St. Louis brewers. Hugo Koehler, president of the Independent Brewing Association, said that he did not believe the full output of one large St. Louis brewery could be consumed by the prescription method. He also said that he was not sure his company would attempt to manufacture beer. C. Norman Jones of the St. Louis Brewing Association expressed the opinion that the regulations would not mean much to St. Louis brewers, inasmuch as the output of the breweries would be too great for consumption under the law.
